WEPL0101 HIV Persistence on Patients on HAART: Reevaluating Prospects for Eradication

Robert Siliciano M.D., Ph.D., Professor of Medicine, Molecular Biology and Genetics at Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine

Dr. Siliciano is a member of the Howard Hughes Medical Institute and Professor of Medicine and Molecular Biology and Genetics at the Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine. In 1995, his laboratory provided the first demonstration that latently infected memory CD4+ T cells were present in patients with HIV-1 infection. Dr. Siliciano went on to characterize this latent reservoir and to show that latently infected cells persist even in patients who are on prolonged antiretroviral therapy. These studies indicated that eradication of HIV-1 infection with antiretroviral therapy alone would never be possible, a finding which led to a fundamental change in the treatment strategy for HIV-1 infection. Dr. Siliciano's laboratory has characterized the different forms of HIV-1 that persist in patients on HAART, and is exploring potential strategies for eradicating the virus from this and other reservoirs.

Dr. Siliciano completed his undergraduate work at Princeton University, and received his MD and PhD degrees from Johns Hopkins. After a postdoctoral fellowship at Harvard Medical School, he joined the faculty at Johns Hopkins. He is the recipient of a Distinguished Clinical Scientist Award from the Doris Duke Charitable Foundation, as well as two National Institutes of Health (NIH) Merit Awards. In 2002, Dr. Siliciano became an Investigator at the Howard Hughes Medical Institute in Chevy Chase, Maryland. He also directs the MD-PhD programme at Johns Hopkins University. He is past Chairman of the NIH AIDS and Related Research Study Section.

WEPL0102 HIV and Children

Linda Richter Ph.D., Executive Director of Child, Youth, Family and Social Development (CYFSD) at the Human Sciences Research Council in South Africa; Honorary Professor in Psychology and elected Fellow at the University of Kwazulu-Natal in Johannesburg, South Africa

Dr. Richter has conducted both basic and policy research in the fields of child and youth development as applied to health, education, welfare and social development. She has published more than 150 papers on such topics as: child, adolescent and family development; infant and child assessment; protein-energy malnutrition; street and working children; the effects of HIV/AIDS on children and families; and HIV prevention among young people.

Dr. Richter has developed several innovative interventions and programmes, and has advised other agencies on the design, implementation and evaluation of interventions for children and families. These include programmes related to malnourished children and their caregivers, street children, children in situations of conflict and war, support for vulnerable children provided by youth, promoting men's care and protection of children, and palliative care for sick children in the context of the HIV/AIDS pandemic.

Dr. Richter is on the Editorial Boards of several disciplinary journals, committees and task teams. Her work, and that of CYFSD, has been recognized by a National Science and Technology Forum Award in South Africa in 2006 and the HSRC's CEO Award in 2007. Dr. Richter also was a finalist in the category of science and technology for the South African Woman of the Year Award in 2007.

WEPL0103 Sex Work

ES

Elena Reynaga, Founder and Executive Secretary of the Argentine Association of Female Sex Workers

Elena Eva Reynaga is a female sex worker (FSW) born in San Pedro de Jujuy, Argentina. She started working as a social activist in 1994, together with other FSWs, to denounce the violation of their human rights by the police and government. Ms. Reynaga became a point of reference both nationwide and internationally with regard to sex work related issues, including HIV/AIDS, violence, gender, human rights and labor rights.

Ms. Reynaga is the Founder and Executive Secretary of AMMAR, the Argentine Association of Female Sex Workers. Its major achievements have been the elimination of police edicts (minor laws) which criminalized sex work, and the establishment of a syndicate, which gives FSWs the status of workers. About 1,700 FSWs living in 11 provinces of Argentina are affiliated with AMMAR. Her work is considered good practice throughout the Latin America and Caribbean region and in some European and North American countries. Ms. Reynaga is a member of the National Board of the Argentine Workers' Centre (CTA - Central de los Trabajadores Argentinos).

Ms. Reynaga is also the Executive Secretary of the Latin American and Caribbean Network of Female Sex Workers (RedTraSex). She has been an active member of the Latin American HIV/AIDS Networks Initiative (RedesLAC), the pool of consultants working on HIV/AIDS (lead by the International HIV/AIDS Alliance), is also involved in the Brazilian International Centre for Technical Cooperation on HIV/AIDS. In 2003, Ms. Reynaga was a member of the coordinating team of the HIV Forum in Havana, Cuba; in 2007 she participated in the local organization team of the HIV Forum in Buenos Aires, Argentina. In 2006 she participated as speaker at the United Nations High Level Meeting and at the Women Deliver Conference in London.

WESY01 In From the Margins: the Leadership of Vulnerable Populations in the AIDS Response
Symposia

Venue: Session Room 2
Time: Wednesday 6 August, 11:00-12:30
Chair: Jacqueline Roches Cortes, Brazil

People most affected by and vulnerable to AIDS often come from marginalised and highly stigmatised groups – sex workers, men who have sex with men and drug users.

Large global and national infrastructures to respond to AIDS have developed, and are managing the billions of dollars now allocated to fighting AIDS. But those very populations most affected by AIDS remain disenfranchised, under-resourced and largely absent from the big decision making about AIDS.

This session will evidence the seriousness and extent of the challenges and will also propose some solutions. It will bring together influential donors and successful leaders from marginalised populations to do three things: 1. examine the barriers to effective leadership experienced by marginalised populations, 2. explore the potential of organizations representing marginalised populations to advocate for better access to services and to resources, and 3. reflect and learn from good donors leadership.

WESY02 Impact of AIDS on Human Development: Reproduction in the Social Context
Symposia

Venue: Session Room 3
Time: Wednesday 6 August, 11:00-12:30
Chair: Musimbi Kanyoro, United States
 Alice Welbourn, United Kingdom

We have studied the biological and epidemiological aspects of reproduction in relation to AIDS but the most crucial unexamined issues remain in the social context of reproduction. Researchers and grassroots organizers have been calling attention to the social and political context of AIDS and to the specific situation of women since the mid 1980s. Many of the sharp critiques of the early period could be repeated and expanded upon today with no loss of cogency or point. For this discussion, the panel will take the social context of reproduction as its central organizing concept. The issues to be discussed are: reproductive choice, fertility, desire through breastfeeding, childcare, and economic subsistence as they relate to AIDS prevention and treatment. The panel will also explore the challenges of AIDS to human development.

WESY03 From Risk to Vulnerability: Caribbean and Global Perspectives

Symposia

Venue: Session Room 4

Time: Wednesday 6 August, 11:00-12:30

Chair: Robert Carr, Jamaica

In many areas of the world hit by HIV, the bio-medical model has dominated thinking about appropriate responses. Especially in a context of stigma and discrimination however, particularly in regard to socially excluded groups, the shift in understanding from a bio-medical approach to one that addresses structural drivers that make some sub-populations more vulnerable than others is critical, if difficult for many programmers at the national, donor and community levels to make. This session will look at some of the critical insights on the implications of a vulnerability reduction model to compliment the risk reduction efforts at the community level.

WESS01	Looking to the Future--The Epidemic in 2031 and New Directions in AIDS Research Special Session
Venue:	Session Room 1
Time:	Wednesday 6 August, 12:45-14:15
Chair:	F. Barre-Sinoussi, France
Moderator:	Richard Horton, United States

Twenty-five years after the discovery of HIV, the number of people living with HIV continues to rise. In 2007, 33 million people in the world were living with HIV, and 2.5 million died from AIDS. Since the start of the epidemic, over 25 million people have died of AIDS.

Antiretroviral medicines have provided enormous hope for those with access. Used for treatment of chronic infection, to prevent mother to child transmission and as post-exposure prophylaxis for occupational and non-occupational exposures to the virus, antiretrovirals are also being studied for use as pre-exposure prophylaxis for individuals most at risk of infection. Over 3 million people in low- and middle-income countries are now receiving antiretrovirals, approximately 31% of those in need. Still, new infections continue to outpace efforts to scale up access to treatment. For every 2 persons who begin life-prolonging antiretroviral therapy, there are 5 people who become infected. Scientific challenges continue to delay the development of an effective preventive HIV vaccine, though research continues.

Despite significant progress, HIV/AIDS will remain a global challenge in the coming decades. A long-term analysis and strategy for responding to the epidemic is essential. This session will explore the future of the epidemic and future of the global response to HIV/AIDS. Dr. Peter Piot (UNAIDS) will present the "2031 initiative" that looks to the year 2031 and anticipates where we are likely to be in terms of the epidemic and the response. Dr. Anthony Fauci (NIH) will discuss the future of AIDS research. Frika Chia Iskander (APN+), Mark Harrington (TAG) and Vuyiseka Dubula (TAC) will present their visions for the community response.

WESS02	Family Acceptance: A Family and Community Approach to Prevention, Wellness and Care for LGBT Youth and Young Adults Special Session
Venue:	Session Room 9
Time:	Wednesday 6 August, 12:45-14:15
Chair:	Jorge Saavedra, Mexico

The session will present this important new research and will discuss current approaches to working with families to prevent HIV infection, promote well-being, decrease rejection and increase social support for sexual minority individuals. The session will provide a forum to discuss the role of institutions (e.g. families, community programmes, health agencies) and community-level interventions to help change outcomes for LGBT young people and to change negative and rejecting group norms that increase stigma, victimization and low self-esteem in LGBT young people which increase their risk for HIV infection.

WESS03	Moving from Promises to Actions: Building Global and National Commitment for Evidence-Based Approaches to Addressing Stigma and Discrimination Special Session
Venue:	Session Room 10
Time:	Wednesday 6 August, 12:45-14:15
Chair:	Paul Perchal, United States
Co-Chair:	Susan Timberlake, Switzerland

HIV stigma and discrimination are violations of human rights and undermine public health efforts to tackle HIV and AIDS. In 2006, UNAIDS categorized HIV stigma and discrimination, along with inequity and human rights abuses, as primary obstacles to scaling up HIV programmes and achieving universal access to HIV prevention, care and treatment. In recent years, researchers and practitioners have made significant progress in identifying the causes and dimensions of stigma, developing practical tools for programmes with multiple target groups, and standardizing measures for evaluating programmes. The stage is now set for effective strategies that combine interventions across sectors and at multiple levels to generate broad reductions in stigma, discrimination, and gender based violence. Despite this progress, efforts to address stigma's negative impact still remain grossly neglected in national and international AIDS responses. Through a moderated panel format this session will explore some of the key reasons why this critical gap still exists and the urgent actions needed to address it.

WESS04 Financing for Sustainable National Health Care Special Session

Venue: Session Room 11

Time: Wednesday 6 August, 12:45-14:15

Moderator: Alan Whiteside, South Africa

This special session will explore various models of health care financing at national levels and will also discuss donor approaches working in partnership with resource-limited governments and civil society. Many countries facing a financial burden of HIV/AIDS not only critically depend on external assistance for scale up of national programmes, but have yet to put in place systems to mobilize predictable and sustainable domestic resources for HIV/AIDS or for broader health care programmes. Increased resources for AIDS, through the Global Fund, PEPFAR, other bilateral aid programmes and private foundations are enabling expansion in countries of HIV-specific prevention and treatment interventions. Also infrastructure, human resources, commodities management and distribution and research and evaluation can contribute to overall health systems strengthening. A number of initiatives from within resource-limited countries themselves, as well as donor-driven initiatives, aim to address the issue of social health protection broadly and national health care financing specifically. This session will examine country case studies and an analysis of the 2006 reforms in the Dutch health insurance scheme for the working poor, the Mexico social health programme, and the International Health Partnership initiated by the United Kingdom.

Symposia

Venue: Session Room 1

Time: Wednesday 6 August, 14:30-16:00

Chair: Joel Nana, South Africa

This session aspires to showcase motivating examples on how a range of key actors and stakeholders are addressing issues around homosexuality, sex among men, HIV infection, access to services and treatment, homophobia, stigma and discrimination, etc., in countries and within social environments where denial of the existence of sex among men is a common denominator. Examples from sub-Saharan Africa, North Africa/Middle East, India and Eastern Europe. Speakers will range from gay and HIV activists, to researchers to government officials or advisors who will seek to put across how HIV prevention, care, support and treatment programmes for MSM can thrive in the middle of hostile and homophobic contexts

WESY06 The New Frontiers of Harm Reduction Symposia

Venue: Session Room 2

Time: Wednesday 6 August, 14:30-16:00

Chair: Gerry Stimson, United Kingdom

Harm reduction has moved beyond the traditional focus on opiate drugs, injecting drug use, needle and syringe exchanges, and substitution therapy. As our understanding of the global state of drug use has matured in recent years, so a more global approach to harm reduction has developed – encompassing human rights, non-injecting drug use, alcohol and tobacco use, issues for producer countries, challenging oppressive legal systems, and engraving drug use within a broader poverty and marginalization agenda. This session will aim to outline some of the new frontiers for the developing international harm reduction agenda – including the frequent violations of the human rights of drug users, the emergence of a new generation of drug users, the engagement of drug user activists in policy discussion and creation, and the changing scenarios in Africa, Latin America and the Caribbean.

WESY07 Human Security and HIV Symposia

Venue: Session Room 3

Time: Wednesday 6 August, 14:30-16:00

Moderator: Alex de Waal, United Kingdom

There has been a certain amount of debate and research about the connections between conflicts, disasters and HIV. These connections are less straight-forward than might be supposed and require ongoing research and monitoring. This session will examine a range of evidence and theorising about the impact of conflict and disasters on HIV. The session will point to developing clear and immediate policy and programme recommendations for how HIV/AIDS initiatives should be designed for humanitarian crisis and post-conflict transitions.

Time: Wednesday 6 August, 16:30-18:00

Co-Chair: Charles Gilks, Switzerland

Jacqueline Roches Cortes, Brazil

The second wave of scale up i.e. decentralisation from regional and district hospitals to health centres is a major challenge. This session will consist of three presentations of the experiences of countries facing these challenges and the barriers that have been overcome and those that they still face and how far decentralisation should go. The speakers have been asked to synthesize research and experience (clinical, community, socioeconomic, political) from their country's programme(s) and to be open about the strengths and weaknesses of these.

WEBS03 Globalization, Development and Free Trade Agreements (FTAs)

Bridging Session

Venue: Session Room 3

Time: Wednesday 6 August, 16:30-18:00

Facilitator: Ellen T'Hoen, France

Co-Chair: Chan Park, India

Free Trade Agreements (FTAs) have been largely ignored by the HIV community for a long time. However in imposing conditions FTAs have impact directly on the access to medicines and food security especially for the poor in the developing countries who need protection in these critical areas to simply survive healthily. The sessions first through the two Co-chairs, who explain briefly the role of the FTAs generally in the newly globalized economy, their relations to other trade agreements, and the speakers then pick up the issues in respect of different regions and particular companies and examine the impact of FTAs in the relation to access to medicines and food security.

WESY08 The AIDS Care Economy and the Burden on Women
Symposia
Venue: Session Room 4
Time: Wednesday 6 August, 16:30-18:00
Chair: B. Adeleye-Fayemi, Nigeria

Ninety per cent of AIDS care in developing countries happens at home, and women bear a disproportionate burden of those responsibilities. In AIDS-affected households, women do all of the work. Along with caring for sick husbands and family members, they also take on extra tasks to support the household: They grow the food, fetch water and fire wood, cook, clean, shop, wash and care for the family, and take in children orphaned by AIDS. And they do all of this often while battling AIDS-related illnesses themselves. It's called the Care Economy and the time, energy and resources women spend on these tasks is unrecognized, unvalued and unpaid. They are called volunteers but they are not forgoing payment because they can afford to or because they want to.

What should be the job of a trained, experienced nurse or doctor is now the responsibility of women. Girls are being taken out school to care for sick family members, and women are sinking deeper into poverty as they are being pulled away from work that would contribute to household income in order to do unpaid work of AIDS care. What is the impact of the Care Economy on women, households and countries? If women were adequately compensated for their work, what would it cost the world? Why is it acceptable for women's work to go unremunerated (surely if men were the primary caregivers and millions of them were taking on extra duties because of HIV/AIDS we'd find a way to compensate them)? What will it take to get donors, international NGOs and governments to compensate women for their work?

WESY09 Criminalization: Why, Where and What are the Alternatives?
Symposia

Venue: Session Room 6
Time: Wednesday 6 August, 16:30-18:00
Chair: Edwin Cameron, South Africa

This session, chaired by plenary speaker Justice Edwin Cameron, will seek to understand where criminalization of HIV transmission is occurring, what the reasons are behind it, and alternative responses by which to address the concerns of those who promote it. Speakers will examine whether criminalization of HIV transmission advances either the public health goal of HIV prevention or the criminal law goals of justice and deterrence (or serves any other useful purpose). They will also consider scientific issues that impact on criminalization, such as phylogenetic testing and new studies regarding infectiousness while on successful treatment, as well as social issues, such as selective enforcement and possible impact on women living with HIV. The appropriate boundaries of criminalization of HIV transmission, including the appropriate role of the State with regard to intervening in intimate sexual encounters, and the extent to which each sexual partner should take autonomous responsibility for self-protection, will be explored. Following panel presentations there will be an opportunity to engage in a moderated discussion with speakers.

WESY10 In the AIDS Response, Where is the Leadership for Women's Human Rights?
Symposia
Venue: Session Room 8
Time: Wednesday 6 August, 16:30-18:00
Moderator: Gracia Violeta Ross, Bolivia

HIV and AIDS has and continues to have a devastating impact on the lives of women and girls. Responses to this global pandemic have failed to meet the needs of women and girls and are not often based on human rights. Who is leading in changing the AIDS response to meet the needs of women and girls? Who is accountable? What is missing? Is it merely "lip service" or is there is sufficient political commitment to truly address women's human rights as part of the AIDS response? Where are the resources to truly "engender" the AIDS response? How do we move from rhetoric about women to action that matters to women? This interactive dialogue will engage leaders from community-based organizations, feminist movements, youth networks and policy and decision makers from government and the UN system. Clearly there is a need for a greater response to the HIV/AIDS pandemic that is based on the promotion, protection and fulfillment of women's human rights, but is there enough leadership and commitment to make this happen?

Skills Building Workshops 11:00-12:30

WESB01 Gender: Young Women and Their Fight Against HIV/AIDS

Venue: Skills Building Room 1 Y

Time: Wednesday 6 August, 11:00-12:30

Seating limits: 90

Facilitator: Gulalai Ismail, Pakistan

This skills building session will provide understanding of different factors affecting young women's lives and how these interplay with HIV/ AIDS, adopting intersectional approaches in programmes and policy advocacy. It will also explore how understandings of sexuality is instrumental in issues of young people and how it can be integrated.

WESB02 Working WITH Youth: Strategies for Effectively Engaging Youth Most At Risk (Street Involved, Sex Workers, IDUs)

Venue: Skills Building Room 2 Y

Time: Wednesday 6 August, 11:00-12:30

Seating limits: 90

Facilitator: Caitlin Padgett, Canada

Co-Facilitator: Kyla Zanardi, Canada

Young people at risk for HIV through injection drug use and/or sex work are rarely included in the design and delivery of comprehensive harm reduction programmes. This dynamic session will provide participants with strategies and tools to effectively engage young people to increase health and reduce social exclusion.

WESB03 HIV/AIDS On the U.S.-Mexico Border: A Multi-MSM Community (Men Who have Sex With Men) Approach to HIV/AIDS Prevention and Change

Venue: Skills Building Room 3

Time: Wednesday 6 August, 11:00-12:30

Seating limits: 100

Facilitator: Enrique Perez Gomez, Mexico

The men who have sex with men (MSM) community is quite diverse and those living in the U.S./Mexico border region are no different...or are they? This workshop provides the opportunity to learn more about those who migrate to the border region with great frequency and the effective strategies for prevention.

WESB04 Faire Face à la Stigmatisation des HSH en Afrique.

Venue: Skills Building Room 4 FR

Time: Wednesday 6 August, 11:00-12:30

Seating limits: 90

Facilitator: Mutale Martin Chonta, Zambia

Cette atelier va fournir une opportunité unique pour 'briser la glace' autour le sujet des HSH en Afrique. Dans beaucoup des pays, il y a de plus en plus une reconnaissance de l'importance d'impliquer les HSH dans les stratégies de prise en charge et la prévention du VIH. Pourtant il y a encore des niveaux élevés de la stigmatisation autour des matières touchant a la sexualité, surtout que les HSH doivent affronter.

Cet atelier va utiliser des méthodes dynamiques, interactives ainsi qu'un moyen de s'amuser pour examiner les matières complexes de la stigmatisation et les HSH dans un contexte africain.

WESB05 Moving Beyond the Male Drug Users: Developing and Designing Gender Sensitive Service Delivery Models For Women Drug Users And Partners Of Male Drug Users

Venue: Skills Building Room 5

Time: Wednesday 6 August, 11:00-12:30

Seating limits: 90

Facilitator: Jyoti Mehra, India

Co-Facilitator: Lipi Chowdhury, India

This workshop will provide an excellent learning opportunity about the need for gender sensitive programming required at the initial stage of setting up the harm reduction services for male drug users. Engaging with networks of women living with HIV and AIDS is a key factor for success.

WESB06 The Importance of Parenting Clubs in Strengthening Families to Care for, Support and Protect OVC

Venue: Skills Building Room 6

Time: Wednesday 6 August, 11:00-12:30

Seating limits: 90

Facilitator: Cindy Milford, Cambodia

Parents and caregivers of orphans and vulnerable children (OVC) have a crucial role to play to help reduce the number of children made vulnerable to HIV/AIDS. However, because of their low literacy skills and the social isolation and discrimination they face, these caregivers are often not able to appropriately care for their children. Using a set of 18 interactive communication tools with facilitation guide, community volunteers in Cambodia conduct monthly Parenting Clubs in their villages to address these issues. Come learn more about these tools and how Parenting Clubs operate, through this interactive session!

Conference Programme Overview	WESB07	A Proposal for Monitoring Antiretroviral Price Negotiations in Latin America and the Caribbean	WESB09	Improving Communication Skills in the Context of the Multicultural HIV/AIDS Clinic
Week-long Events	Venue:	Skills Building Room 7	Venue:	Skills Building Room 9
Sunday	Time:	Wednesday 6 August, 11:00-12:30	Time:	Wednesday 6 August, 11:00-12:30
Monday	Seating limits:	70	Language:	English
Tuesday	Facilitator:	Claudia Garcia Serpa Osorio-de-Castro, Brazil	Target Audience:	Target Audiences List
Wednesday Skills Building Workshops	The workshop aims to present, discuss and disseminate a comprehensive methodology for monitoring antiretroviral price negotiations in Latin America and the Caribbean (LAC). This methodology has been developed, tested and validated by the Sergio Arouca National School of Public Health (ENSP), Fiocruz, which hosts the Secretariat of the Global Care Financing Network, a joint initiative between ENSP, UNAIDS and the French Ministry of Foreign Affairs. The workshop will include an overview of achievements made by ART negotiations in LAC over the last five years, a detailed presentation of the methodology and a discussion between lecturers and invitees and the audience.		The workshop will provide participants with insight into barriers and facilitators to effective communication in the context of the HIV/AIDS clinic, using real examples and commentaries. It will highlight the special challenges of working with interpreters and cultural brokers and will present a model for managing the communication challenges of HIV/AIDS in different contexts. It will tackle particular challenges relating to disclosure, adherence, terminology and concepts that are difficult to convey to patients. The goal is to empower health professionals to communicate more effectively with patients and increase the toolbox for practitioners working in settings of cultural and linguistic diversity.

	Home-based care has been advocated by various international and governmental organizations as one of the ways to provide quality care to people living with HIV. The importance and advantage of adequate home-based care cannot be overlooked, especially in a resource poor setting. However, it is equally important that home-based care providers, who are often poor women working on a 'voluntary basis', are adequately trained and supported. The workshop examines the current situation of home-based care providers in southern African states and advocates the application of a rights-based approach, which is based on human rights principles to support and manage home-based care providers.		Culture – the key to unravelling the vulnerability of women and girls to HIV and AIDS. Welcome to SAfAIDS' hosted "Engaging communities in dialogue to address the linkages between culture, GBV HIV and AIDS."

Time: Wednesday 6 August, 14:30-18:00

Seating limits: 90

Facilitator: Chipo Chiiya, Zambia

Finally a workshop lead by young people to discuss issues affecting young people and stigma. Come and share your experiences, try out our new tools (developed in Tanzania) and see how they can be adapted to fit different contexts. Participants will participate in activities which will help them to reflect on their own attitudes towards young people, particularly in relation to sex and relationships. There will be opportunities to share experiences of stigma, explore how stigma affects young people, discussion how young peoples' sexual rights are being violated and participate in exercises to explore how to strengthen young peoples' support structures.

WESB12 Safer Sensuous Sexual Pleasure: Using Elements of Sensuousness in Promoting Safer Sex Among MSM

Venue: Skills Building Room 2

Time: Wednesday 6 August, 14:30-18:00

Seating limits: 90

Facilitator: Anupam Hazra, India

Currently SAATHII is carrying out an action research project to test the efficacy of using "elements of sensuousness" in making male-to-male sex safer and mutually pleasurable. Workshop participants will be taught how some of those "elements of sensuousness" can be used in their own area of work. The workshop will also try to explore newer and better ways and means of promoting safer and pleasurable sex among MSM. Special emphasis will be given on understanding how the subjective experiences of MSM, particularly male sex workers (MSWs), affect their morality, values and norms, and how it compares and contrasts with the normative approach towards their present sensuousness.

Seating limits: 90

Facilitator: Luis A Quiroz, Mexico

Co-Facilitator: Juan Carlos Medel Cabrera, Mexico

El acceso al tratamiento ARV es vital para las personas viviendo con VIH. Este acceso aunque es garantizado por muchos estados, en realidad es limitado y con baja calidad de atención en los países de la región de Latinoamérica. Una herramienta para mejorar el acceso al tratamiento y atención es la vigilancia ciudadana. En este taller los participantes desarrollaran planes de acción los cuales podrán implementar en sus comunidades para realizar vigilancia ciudadana garantizando el acceso a tratamiento que este sea con calidad, en un marco de Derechos Humanos y conforme a las recomendaciones internacionales. Este taller es para activistas, miembros comunitarios, proveedores de la Salud, PVVS y educadores.

Seating limits:	90
Facilitator:	Angela Pires Pinto, Brazil
Co-Facilitator:	Marcelo Araújo Freitas, Brazil

¿Por que pensar en SIDA y Discapacidad? ¿Es necesario un presupuesto y recursos específicos para incluir a las personas discapacitadas en los esfuerzos de combate contra ITS/SIDA? La discusión de discapacidades es una cuestión emergente en la atención de ITS/SIDA, considerando la vulnerabilidad de las personas con discapacidad así como la situación de discapacidad generada en razón del SIDA. En este taller vamos a compartir experiencias y herramientas para la construcción, en distintos escenarios, de políticas y estrategias en el tema de ITS/SIDA y discapacidad. El taller será conducido en español pero los/las facilitadores/as podrán comunicarse también en portugués e inglés.
